SHARP WORDS

Mr. R. W. Tayler Was Sarcastic Last Night.

CLEVELAND, SMITH, WILSON

Held Up to Ridicule by the Next Congressman.

THE LESSON OF THE PAST YEAR

Shows With All Its Force and Power. An Earnest Audience Heard Earnest Words From an Earnest Orator—Democracy Arraigned But Not Labeled—Some Discreditable Acts—A Dapper Professor in London—Nothing is Cheap if You Have no Money to Buy—Tariff Arguments Placed Before an Intelligent Audience of Men Who Could Appreciate Them.

Mr. R. W. Tayler delivered an excellent address in the Fifth street rink last evening, and with his quiet, cutting sarcasm showed to Democracy that he was a foe worthy of better steel than the party in the Eighteenth district possesses this year.

There were fully 1,500 people in the building when Chairman Will L. Smith appeared on the platform and asked Secretary J. N. Hanley to make known the organization, which showed that J. N. Rose would preside, and a great many vice presidents had been chosen to fill the stage. Squire Rose needed no other introduction than to announce that he was there for a set purpose, and he proceeded to do his duty in a happy little speech, which elicited applause more than once. He introduced Mr. Tayler as a neighbor and fellow citizen whom he believed would pull more than two-thirds of the vote of the city next month. Mr. Tayler, who wore a suit of dark clothes, and the cuffs to which some Democrats object, was loudly applauded when he arose, and bowing to right and left the gentleman said:

Mr. chairman, ladies and gentlemen, fellow citizens and fellow sufferers (laughter)—I would surely be insensible to every sentiment if I failed to appreciate the warm welcome which you have given me this evening, and I thank you. When I look into the faces of hundreds of men whom I have known for 20 years and who were my fellow citizens and neighbors for 10 years I cannot but realize that there is no spot on earth where I number so many personal friends as in this city of East Liverpool, and I do not forget that the foundation for what little success I have won in life was laid in this my old home. And I am glad that I am here to open the campaign tonight, a campaign which is most important for the people and industry of your town. There is no need of sophistry or argument, my friends, to convince you where the interest lies. You who have felt the blast of Democracy's destroying breath need no fine metaphors to be convinced that the result of this contest is all important, and there never was a time when it was better to be a Republican than at this time. (Applause.) The only hope for the return of prosperity to East Liverpool, the only safeguard for the people can be found in the Republican party. I believe and express my belief, but not as the demagogue, for there is argument to show the truth, that no prosperity save that which permeates every class of society, which gives the masses their just due, can permanently exist in America, and Republican principle is planted as that foundation. If the masses are prosperous, the nation is prosperous, and it comes to me as a Republican that this prosperity can only be found in protection to labor, to home, and to industry. I believe that we must have a tariff that will make up the difference between wages abroad and at home. (Applause.) It is the only method that can be employed to keep our civilization. Furthermore I believe in just and wise laws that will place a restriction on those people, the offscourings of Europe, who, because of their disregard of law and the principles of good government, are unworthy to bear the proud name American. (Applause.) Two years ago the Democrats said vote for Grover. Some of you did so, and all of us got Grover. (Laughter.) That is all, but it is more than enough. The 40 cent wool, $1.25 wheat, and the promised good wages no one got.

For 30 years prior to 1890 the country had been developing under the impetus of protection. When I came here in 1870 this city had a population of 3,000, while in 1890 there were 11,000 souls in Liverpool. Here is a community built by Republican tariff. The country doubled in population during that time and wealth has increased five fold. In 30 years the wages paid in industries increased from $300,000,000 to over $1,700,000,000, every dollar of it due to the Republican party and the tariff. The man who worked in 1890 got almost double the wages paid the man who worked in 1860, and the dollar was worth more in purchasing power. Then the old law wouldn't do. They undertook to pass a new one, and I tell you my friends it matters not how high William McKinley may stand today, it matters not what honors will be showered upon him in the future, no honor can be greater than that achieved when the tariff law which bears his name was passed. It stands the brightest jewel in the dazzling coronet of his life. When the people realized what that law meant, the country bounded forward as it never bounded before. You know the result of the McKinley law. You have heard how the factories boomed and the wages were good, and what a dollar would buy. At the same time the workshops of Britain, our great competitor, were still and silent. Then came the Democratic party. It had been out of power for 30 years; it had grown so accustomed to abusing Republicans, to declare Republicans wrong, that the members were misled into looking upon the law as wrong. They would change it, and you know how they did it. Need I tell the result? This place felt the blight of Democratic policy. It made the people here suffer, it made them regret that Democracy had been victorious.

They say that a protective tariff makes the rich richer and the poor poorer, and the only thing I can say in reply to it is that acknowledging this to be true we know that low duties make the rich richer yet and the poor poorer yet. Which is the most sensible? (Applause.)

No man can gain prosperity from the adversity of his neighbor; neither can he make good wages if his employer is losing money. If capital is prosperous labor feels the effect. If an employer realizes $25,000 from his business the argument against a reduction in wages is stronger than if he made $5,000. It is as true as that there is a heaven above us that if wages are good under a protective tariff they will be less under free trade. They say that things are cheap under free trade; but you know that nothing is cheap when you haven't the money to buy it. This Democratic threat to reform stands out plainly against Republicanism. One is Democratic and British, the other is Republican and American. When Democracy threw the gauntlet into the arena the Republican party took it up. Oregon responded, Vermont came into line, and Maine showed how her people observed the situation. If this was done a month ago what will be the result in November? I believe they will be lost. Ten years ago an ex-Confederate, who had fought and bled for the lost cause, went to attend a reunion of his old command. Since the war fortune had not been kind to him and he was poor, so poor that when he reached his destination he possessed only $7 in money, the price of a railroad ticket. While there he met a Union soldier, a man who had been frightfully torn and mangled by rebel shot and shell. One arm was gone, a leg was stiff, a great scar showed the mark a rebel saber upon his forehead, while at the back of his head was a silver plate, placed there because a piece of the skull had been shot away. Taken all in all he was the most badly damaged piece of humanity to be found in a day's travel. When the Southerner saw him his face lighted. He tapped that plate perhaps to see if it was free silver. His eyes wandered over the cripple, and his hand wandered to his pocket. Drawing forth the money, all he had, he insisted on the union man taking it. The latter refused, but so earnest were his entreaties that the veteran complied with his wish, remarking that he was glad to see the old feeling had died away, and that the Southerner realized that they were brothers under the same flag. To this the ex-rebel replied that he didn't care a rap about brotherly love, living under one flag and so on, but he felt so glad, as it was the first time he had ever seen a Yankee trimmed according to his taste, and that is the way

A FORAKER WELCOME

The Statesman to be Warmly Greeted.

THE MARSHAL APPOINTS AIDES

Who Will Help Him Manage the Parade. The Ex-Governor Will Come From Pittsburgh, and Should be Greeted by a Great Crowd.

Indications today point to a big meeting tomorrow night and a rousing reception for Hon. Joseph B. Foraker.

The central committee and the sub-committees have completed all arrangements, which provide for a monster demonstration. It is the intention to have the honored guest welcomed in a royal manner, showing him that East Liverpool has lost none of her old time fervor and enthusiasm. He has telegraphed that he will be here tomorrow evening from Pittsburgh, which means that he will arrive on the 7 train. A committee will meet him at the station, and look after him until the parade is formed and ready to be reviewed. The procession will be in command of Marshal Chas. Stewart who has appointed as aides Elmer Stevenson, W. H. Surles, Frank Allison, Thomas Pickal, John Reark, Frank Dickey and Charles Berg who are requested to meet him at the Fifth street rink promptly at 7 o'clock. The bands will also be there, at that time, and it is the intention to have the parade start as soon as possible after that time. In line will be the clubs of the city who will act as an escort to Mr. Foraker in the march, and all citizens are urged to lend their aid toward making the meeting a success by falling into the procession. The line of march will be from Broadway to Sixth, to Monroe, to Fifth, to Market, to Second, to Broadway, to the rink, where the column will disband. There will be an abundance of red fire on hand, and the occasion will be made one of enthusiasm. It is the desire of all who would make the meeting a success that the parade be the largest of the year, more especially as the committees have had little time for preparation.

Hon. Joe Foraker is one of the best orators in America. He is as powerful as he is polished, as forcible as he is eloquent. In days gone by his clarion voice has sung the praises of Republicanism and pointed the dangers of Democracy, and a campaign in Ohio would not be complete without the man who dared tell the president that the Buckeye State knew its rights, and not a rebel flag would be returned. The eloquent gentleman has spoken on two other occasions in this city, and was greeted then as he should be tomorrow evening by an enthusiastic crowd ever willing to pay American honor to an American statesman. Go and hear Josie Benson Foraker.

WEDDED WOES.

A Marriage a Row and a Lawsuit in Twenty-four Hours.

Last night at the St. Stephens Episcopal church Reverend Taylor said the words which united the fortunes of Otto Schmidtbauer and Miss Amy Jackson. The edifice was crowded, and the ceremony was a pretty one.

A few hours later while the bride and groom were at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Smull, on lower Market street, a crowd of young men and boys appeared and annoyed them by pounding on the doors and windows and hurling numerous epithets at Schmidtbauer. Mrs. Smull went outside the door to quiet the disturbance when one of the crowd struck her a vicious blow in the face. This afternoon Mrs. Smull caused a warrant to be issued from Squire Manley's court charging one Thomas Jackson with assault and battery. Constable Lyons took the document and will probably serve it on the recreant young man this afternoon. Jackson resides in a shanty boat along the river, and is no relation to Schmidtbauer's wife.

A Big Project.

Several days ago the News Review mentioned a big electrical project which might or might not be an electric light plant. It has been developed that this is not true, but what really is projected is a much greater institution. Those back of the scheme insist on nothing being said.

A Runaway Girl.

A young girl alighted from the morning westbound train and from the inquiries she made several of her questioners believed that she ran away from home. The girl was asked her name, but laughed off her evident bewilderment, at the same time completely ignoring the question. She finally made her way to Market street and disappeared. The stranger carried no luggage, and it did not appear as if she intended visiting anyone here, as she did not inquire for any particular family or residence.

Wilson is Here.

William Wilson, one of the fastest traveling men on the road, is here from New York. He registered at the Grand yesterday evening and is alternately hustling and resting his mountain of flesh today. Mr. Wilson is an ardent Republican which is excellent proof that he is no relative of the free trade William. So enthusiastic is he that while in this city in 1888 he made a Republican speech which cost him $9.00 at one of the principal city institutions. He still delights to talk politics, however, and retains his ideas as of yore in even stronger lines.

Being Photographed.

The members of the Girls Cornet band are having their photographs taken this afternoon for use in advertising the organization. The girls will be photographed singly, and those who take part in specialties will be dressed in their respective costumes. Electrotypes of each and also of a group will be secured. Leader Curfman is completing arrangements for a prospective tour and the photos are being secured with this in view.

A Close Call.

What might have been a serious accident was witnessed at Fourth and Washington streets last evening. A youngster who had been stealing a ride on a street car jumped off in front of a wagon going up the hill, and was thrown to the ground. A minute more and the horses would have trampled him, but he had enough presence of mind to roll out of the way while the driver continued his way unconscious of what had happened.

More Talks for Taylor.

R. W. Taylor will be a busy man until the campaign is over, for he has arranged to make a great many speeches. This afternoon he left for Mahoning county, Friday he will talk in Salineville, Saturday the people of Leontonia will hear him and then comes another trip to Mahoning. He will be in Wellsville Oct. 26, the same evening Ruff is in this city.

Found a Pocketbook.

E. L. Blouers, a blacksmith, who boards at 228 Third street, found a pocketbook on Fourth street today. The purse contains money, and the loser can hear more of it by calling on Mr. Blouers.

—Miss Daugherty, who has been entertained here for several weeks, has returned to her home in Beaver.
—Frank Curry, of Fourth street, returned last night from Johnstown, Pa., where he attended the funeral of an uncle.
—Mrs. Herbert Wynne left this morning for Columbus where she will visit a few days, and then go to her new home in Evansville, Ind.
—James Lamps, of Jefferson county was the guest of friends in this city yesterday and today. The young man is a Pennsylvania company employee enjoying a brief vacation.
—Mark G. Hibbs, a pleasant gentleman employed as traveling salesman for the Pittsburgh Saddlery company, was calling on trade here today. He says business in his line is improving slowly.

BLOOD FLOWS FREELY

Hassey and Mountford Indulge in a Battle.

MOUNTFORD BADLY BEATEN

And His Face Pounded Out of Recognition—The Mill Takes Place in a Backyard, With Nobody to Interfere—Warriors Out for the Offenders.

There was a bloody fight in the back yard adjoining the Fennell saloon in Dewdrop alley about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. John Mountford and Jack Hassey are said to have been the contestants. Mountford was the worse for liquor and is claimed to have been the aggressor, although he received a great deal more punishment than he deserved. Hassey knocked him down repeatedly and kicked him after he had fallen. Mountford's face was beaten out of recognition and blood flowed from a dozen wounds inflicted by his opponent. Hassey being better schooled in fistfights escaped without a scratch. The injured man was taken into the Union planing mill a gory spectacle, indeed, where the blood was washed off his face and his wounds bandaged. Officer Supple arrived on the scene a short time afterward to look for the men.

One man who is well acquainted with both parties evidently thinks that the end is not yet as he said this morning that he would not be surprised to see a prize fight grow out of the trouble. He gave it as his opinion that the fight of yesterday had been brewing for some time and thought that it was unfortunate that Mountford should have been in the condition he was when the pair met.

Neither were arrested at that time as they both fought shy of the officers, but warrants were issued later for the arrest of both men.

What Hendricks Says.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I have only to say regarding the challenge of Robert Maxwell for a foot race that he backed out completely when I agreed to his terms. Now I will challenge him to a race for 75 yards for any amount of money he puts up. By the way, Smith squealed on his challenge with my brother and it seems as though both men simply want a little notoriety. I mean business and the money is ready any time.

LEW HENDRICKS.

A Prospective Field.

A Sistersville oil man stated this morning that he had not the slightest doubt but what the champion oil field of the country lies in the region of Mingo. One well there now produces 75 barrels per day, and looks like a stayer. A Sistersville man has a lease on many acres near Mingo, but has not the money to develop it.

Militiamen Meet.

A special meeting of all members of Company E interested in the Cleveland excursion has been called for 8 o'clock tonight. The meeting will be to arrange for the trip and all members who intend going but have not signed the list are expected to be on hand as well as those who have.

The New Organ.

The expensive pipe organ, which will be placed in the First Methodist Episcopal church, has arrived, but it will require some time before it is ready for service. The painters are at present frescoing the audience room, the carpenters having completed their part of the work.

The Last Day.

Tomorrow is the last day that excursion rates can be secured for the Pittsburgh exposition. The weekly excursions have taken many from this city. Tomorrow will no doubt be a big day, as regards sales of tickets at the local office.

Woman Against Woman.

NEW LISBON, Oct. 17—Miss Annette Launsberry today brought suit against Miss Sample, of Columbiana, asking judgment on a promissory note for $600. The amount was secured by a mortgage.

The Ladies Will Entertain.

The ladies of the Eastern Star have issued invitations for a reception in Masonic hall tomorrow evening. A banquet and dancing are features that will attract many Masons and their families.

Almost Ready for Use.

Linemen who have been employed on the new metallic circuit to Pittsburgh have almost completed their labors here, the cable being stretched to the telephone exchange today.

A Little Sufferer.

The little son of Hugh Clark in East End is seriously ill with a bealed jaw.

GET OUT the Republican vote.

TAYLER should not have a vote less than a majority of 5,000.

If the Canton banker is being supported by the local Democracy, few people in the city know it.

TURN out in force and give Joe Foraker an old time East Liverpool reception tomorrow evening.

SOME day the Democrats in the county will appreciate the fact that cursing officers will not make votes.

It is said that someone has written a song entitled, "When Congress Convenes Again." That man will never die rich and honored.

HON. J. B. FORAKER is a man among men, an orator among millions. What a stir he will create when he is well seated in the United States senate.

MR. TAYLER said some things last evening that will sink deep into the hearts of the local Democracy, and cause them to wonder in the words of the gentleman from Georgia where they are at.

PERHAPS Mr. Raff will explain, when he comes to this place, just where he stands on the silver matter. But then it does not matter, since everyone acknowledges that he is not seriously in the race.

CONGRESSMAN Dalzell, the noted protectionist of Pennsylvania, has returned from a visit to Europe. Fortunately he is not a Democratic member of congress and was not compelled to kill his political chances by enduring a banquet in England.

THE local correspondent of the Populist paper published in Canton veils himself under an assumed name, and gives utterance to expressions he would keep to himself if he knew he would be recognized. But the anonymous writer always did avail himself of the protection afforded by his own timidity, and is ever willing to attack those who would scorn his petty nonsense.

HONOR TO MCKINLEY.

A few Democrats are tearing their hair with rage and saying all sorts of silly things because Governor McKinley accepts a few of the many invitations showered upon him, and finds time to spread the doctrine in other states of the union. Such utterances are not prompted by any desire on the part of these partisans to have the governor stay at home and look after affairs of state, for well they know that Ohio is getting along as well as if he was in Columbus, but because William McKinley is making converts to his political doctrine every time his voice is raised in defense of the people. They know that the power and influence of the gentleman is not exerted as the governor of Ohio, nor yet as a prospective candidate for the presidency, but as the one man who possesses the ability to explain the principle of protection and its beneficial results. The sickening slush administered by these self appointed critics will do Governor McKinley no harm and only brings ridicule upon the heads of those who propound nonsense of this character.

Cowardly Work.

A well known citizen gives us the information that the dress of a young lady was almost literally cut into shreds on Saturday night last in the Diamond. The perpetrator of the act must have used either a knife or scissors. Pity is that the mean culprit was not detected, as a saty device would have been given had the offender been brought before Mayor Gilbert. We understand that several persons have been sufferers at the hand of the miscreant.

Popular Clothiers.

You will find matters of especial interest to you in the advertisement of Joseph Bros., on second page, at head of column. These popular clothiers have a splendid establishment, stocked with the best of material, and the goods are being disposed of at most reasonable prices. Thousands of well-pleased patrons will assure you that you will secure full value received by dealing with these courteous and wide-awake business men.

PORT ARTHUR TAKEN.

Report That Japs Have Captured a Chinese Stronghold.

THE ARMIES READY TO FIGHT

On the Banks of the Yalu River.—The Jap Commander Awaiting Supplies and Heavy Artillery.—Talk of Russia Giving Aid to China.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 17.—It is reported that Port Arthur, the Chinese stronghold, where the fleet of China has been refitting after the battle fought off the mouth of the Yalu river, has been captured by the Japanese. A dispatch from Wi-Ju, Korea, says: The Japanese and Chinese armies are facing each other on the banks of the Yalu river. Both are perfecting their arrangements for a battle. Not a shot has been fired yet. Field Marshal Count Yamagata, commander of the Japanese forces, is awaiting the arrival of supplies and heavy artillery. Spies report that the Chinese army is 25,000 strong.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: Arrangements are being made, in the event of the necessity arising, to send six steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet to Vladivostok, where they will be fitted out as war cruisers. All the material for this purpose has been taken to Vladivostok.

The dispatch adds that there is some talk in St. Petersburg of a revival of the project of a southern route for the Siberian railway, which was originally abandoned because the route would have run across a large slice of Chinese Manchuria. If Russia should assist China she must ask for possession of the territory as compensation. With a sick czar, however, politics is absolutely quiescent. The vapors of the Russian press about new ventures in the far east find no echo in more responsible quarters.

Colonel Von Hannekin in Danger.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 17.—Colonel Von Hannekin, formerly aide-de-camp of Li Hung Chang, who was wounded while acting as adviser to the Chinese admiral, who was in command of the naval battle fought off the Yalu river, is said to be in a dangerous condition, blood poisoning having set in. Colonel Von Hannekin had so far recovered from his injuries as to be able to return to duty, when a relapse prostrated him.

Died in a Russian Prison.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The department of state has been officially advised of the death of Kizeminski, the Buffalo insurance man, in a Russian prison. The man on his return to Russia last summer was arrested on a charge of embezzlement of funds while a police official in Russia many years before. As he was declared to be a naturalized American citizen the United States legation at St. Petersburg interested itself in his case and moved for a trial, which was about to take place when the prisoner died. His relatives in this country have been notified.

May Delay Action Against Morton.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The action of Howard, Levi P. Morton's coachman, in signing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus may delay the proceedings under instructions sent by the immigration bureau here. These instructions directed Dr. Seuner, the immigration commissioner, to institute proceedings against Mr. Morton for violation of the alien contract labor law in the event that no habeas corpus proceedings are begun. This action was also ordered to be taken in case a writ of habeas corpus action had been asked for and refused.

A writ of habeas corpus has been granted.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 17.—A meeting of unusual importance in church circles is being held here, consisting of the Dubois ministers and laymen from all points in the territory covered by the old incorporated Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical association. About 200 delegates are present. The convention was permanently organized by electing Bishop Haman president, Isaiah Bower vice president, Rev. A. Stapleton secretary and J. W. Ruby treasurer.

BAYARD'S WELCOME HOME.

Delaware Democrats Give Him a Warm Reception.—Political News.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 17.—All Delaware turned out to formally welcome Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard back to his state and city, after an absence of 18 months as the representative of his government to the court of St. James. Mr. Bayard arrived in Wilmington from Washington at noon and was entertained by Samuel Bancroft, Jr., Democratic candidate for congress. In the evening he drove to the residence of Senator Gray, in Wilmington, and from there was escorted to the opera-house by 200 members of the Bayard Democratic legion, one of the chief political organizations of the city. Other Democratic clubs marched from their headquarters to the place of meeting. Deafening applause greeted Ambassador Bayard as he was conducted upon the opera-house stage, and he was visibly affected by the warmth of affection of the greeting. The ceremonies were brief and simple, without formality. Senator Gray arose, and on behalf of the vast audience welcomed the guest of the evening. Following the speeches Ambassador Bayard held a reception on the stage that continued for nearly an hour. Nearly all of those present passed before him and grasped him warmly by the hand.

Later in the evening Mr. Bayard was entertained at a banquet at the rooms of the Bayard Democratic legion, and afterward held a reception at the house of the Young Men's Democratic club.

From Philadelphia came a large delegation headed by William Singler, Democratic candidate for governor, and Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Harnett.

Wilson Speaks at a Barbecue.

MONROVIA, W. Va., Oct. 17.—Hon. W. L. Wilson, Senator Camden and ex-Governor A. B. Flemming addressed a mixed audience of miners and farmers numbering 2,500 voters at this point. Delegates were present from all the surrounding country and the crowd was one of the most enthusiastic Mr. Wilson has yet addressed. Mr. Wilson speaks Thursday at a short barbecue at Beverly, where the crowd is expected to reach 20,000, as people are already on their way to that place from points over 100 miles distant.

McKinley Makes Five Speeches.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—Governor McKinley made five speeches yesterday. He left Columbus at 5:30 in the morning and spoke to a large crowd at Greenville, Darke county, at 8 o'clock. He spoke at Celina, Mercer county, at noon, 40 minutes being allotted for him there. At Celina he made a short speech, and arrived at Lima, Allen county, late in the afternoon, where an ovation awaited him. At night he spoke at Fostoria.

Faulkner Makes an Appeal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Senator Faulkner, chairman of the congressional Democratic campaign committee, has issued an address to the Democratic voters of New York city directing their votes to the fact that division in the congressional districts here may cost the party the control of congress.

Stevenson Addresses Students.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 17.—Vice President Stevenson spoke to 1,200 people in the opera house, after which he was driven to the University of Illinois, where he addressed the students.

Will Sign the Agreement.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—The Merchants' bank of Boston and the other Boston banks and trust companies, creditors of the Pennsylvania and Maryland Steel company, who instituted suit for attachment against the Maryland Steel company, have discontinued legal proceedings and signified their desire to sign the agreement prepared by the reorganization committee of the steel company.

An Alleged Murderer Released.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 17.—William M. Massey, who has been in prison since May 24 on suspicion that he murdered Lizzie Hallows, has been released from custody. The grand jury created a sensation last week by failing to find a bill of indictment against him.

A Million Dollar Mortgage.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Oct. 17.—A mortgage of $1,000,000 in favor of the Finance Company of Pennsylvania, covering all the coal lands, coal leases, equipment and tracks of the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf road, has been filed here.

A Prominent Austrian Suicide.

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—Adelbert Hofmann, counselor of the ministry of agriculture, has committed suicide in a railway carriage.

HE HAD RAPED A WHITE WOMAN.

The Victim Identifies Her Black Assailant.—A Mob Numbering Several Thousand Surrounds the Jail.—The Crowd Dispersed at the Point of Bayonets.

WASHINGTON C. H., Oct. 17.—A mob of several thousand people surrounded the jail here, threatening to lynch Jasper Doty, the colored man who raped Mrs. Mary C. Boyd of Parrett's station. Doty was lodged in jail and was identified by Mrs. Boyd.

The mob became so demonstrative that the militia was ordered out by the sheriff, and the crowd dispersed at the point of bayonets. The militia is guarding the jail.

AN OHIO MAN SUICIDES.

W. E. Stauffer Kills Himself For Love In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—W. E. Stauffer, a well-dressed, good-looking man of about 24 years, engaged a room at Dooner's hotel and five minutes afterwards shot himself in the left breast with a revolver. Stauffer registered from Ashland, O. A physician was summoned and the young man was removed to the Jefferson hospital, where little hope of his recovery is entertained.

The bullet was extracted from the back. Stauffer, who retained consciousness after the shooting, said that his act was the result of a love affair, and one of the three letters which he left was addressed to Miss Lois Starr of Ashland, to whom he referred as a lovely girl. He expressed regret for his deed and asked for a minister. The second letter was addressed to his mother and read: "Forgive me, dear mother, you do not know how my heart was breaking." The other was to the hotel proprietor and ran as follows: "I have a widowed mother living in Ashland, O., by the name of Mrs. M. W. Stauffer. Do not break the news suddenly to her. My effects are at 650 Ocean avenue, Jersey City, N. J. Return my railway passes to the Pullman company."

Stauffer had no baggage except an overcoat and an umbrella, and paid for his room in advance. He showed no traces of liquor and spoke rationally after the shooting. His mother was telegraphed for.

The girl had been visiting her brother, E. C. Starr, at 630 Jersey avenue, Jersey City. Stauffer resigned from his position and started with his fiancée for his Ohio home, where they were to have been married. On the train between Jersey City and Philadelphia they quarreled, and upon reaching Broad street station Stauffer alighted and went to the hotel where he was to stay. The girl continued west.

The Rapist Probably Caught.

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Oct. 17.—After considerable detective work it is now claimed that the authorities of this city have the man who assaulted Mrs. Mary C. Boyd of near Parrett's station, this county. The man is a negro, and his mother lives in Jeffersonville, this county. He goes by the name of William Doty, alias Jasper. He has not yet been brought in by the officers, but is said to be in safe keeping at Delaware, O. Deputy Sheriff James Cook has gone after him. The intense excitement throughout the community increases every hour, and if the unfortunate victim identifies him he is very likely to be lynched before the courts can attend to him.

The Verdict All Right.

ATLANTA, Oct. 17.—The suit brought by Marsh Boyd Nelsonville against C. L. Poston & Co. to enforce the payment of store scrip in cash was heard in the circuit court here, and was decided in favor of the defendants. The suit was brought under section 7015 of the revised statutes of Ohio, enacted in 1889, which provides that all scrip checks and drafts issued, purporting to be payable in something other than money, shall be payable in money on demand. The court declared the act to be unconstitutional.

Prison Sunday in the Churches.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—Sunday, Oct. 28, is "Prison Sunday," and the board of state charities have issued a circular urging all ministers in their services upon that day to devote special attention to the relation of Christian people to the reformation of criminals. The board has issued for the benefit of the clergy a pamphlet containing valuable information, statistics and suggestions, which may be obtained by addressing Mr. J. P. Byers, secretary of the board, at Columbus.

Her Recovery Due to Prayer.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 17.—Miss Lizzie Fithian, daughter of C. L. Fithian, a retired business man of the East End, in this city, lost her hearing hopelessly. It was thought, when she was 14 years old. Five years ago Miss Fithian was converted to faith in the prayer cure. During the past five years she has had no treatment of any kind. Today her sense of hearing is normal and she gives all the credit of her recovery to faith and prayer.

Injured by a Bicycle.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—William H. Hughes of the firm of J. R. Hughes & Co., one of the foremost merchants of Columbus, was run down by a bicycle and sustained injuries which, because of his advanced age, may terminate seriously.

How Stark's Treasury Was Looted.

CANTON, O., Oct. 17.—The method employed to loot Stark county's treasury of $18,000 has been discovered, but the looter is still unknown. The plan simply amounted to taking paid orders from where they were filed, having them repaid and refilled.

The Gas Supply Falls.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 17.—The natural gas wells supplying the town of Carey have failed completely and the supply has been shut off.

INCENDIARIES AT WORK.

Business Portion of Liberty Center, O., Destroyed by Fire.

TOLEDO, Oct. 17.—The business portion of Liberty Center, a thriving town on the Wabash railroad, 25 miles from here, has been destroyed by fire. The blaze started in the grocery store of Wheatly & Co., and, aided by the strong wind, spread rapidly. The local fire department was unable to cope with the flames, and aid that was sent by Napoleon arrived too late to be of any use. The fire finally burnt itself out. In all 17 buildings were consumed, including three dry goods houses and the office of The Liberty Press. The losses will aggregate $40,000, with about one-third insurance.

The fire was of incendiary origin. Three suspicious characters have been arrested.

Must Pay the Attorney Fees.

ATHENS, O., Oct. 17.—A test case was heard in circuit court at its recent session here, which will be of general interest to workmen, as it involves the constitutionality of the law relating to attorney fees in labor cases. About a year ago several of the employees of the Hocking Valley Coal company at Nelsonville sued the company for wages, and judgment was granted in their favor in each case, but the company refused to pay the attorney fees, as required by law, claiming that the law is unconstitutional. A test case was taken to the common pleas court, where the constitutionality of the law was affirmed, which decision the circuit court upholds. The case will now be taken to the supreme court.

Sleeping Car Taxation.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—The state board of appraisers has completed the appraisal for taxation of the sleeping car companies. The board finds that the proportion of the capital stock of the Pullman company engaged in this state is $32,394, the tax of 1 per cent realizing therefrom $323.94; of the Wagner company $29,582, tax $295.82, making a total tax of $619.76. This falls much below the estimate of receipts made by the committee on taxation which framed the law. They estimated the proportion of the capital stock employed in Ohio at from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000, and the revenue from the tax at from $25,000 to $30,000. It is said that the Pullman company pays more taxes in Ohio than in any other state—that is, upon the excise basis.

Ohio Couple's Sensational Divorce.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Oct. 17.—Interesting developments are expected in the divorce case of Murray v. Murray, tried here a few weeks ago and in which a decree was granted the plaintiff. The principals are a prominent, O. where the husband is a Sidney merchant. When the case was tried the attorney for the husband received a telegram to file an answer and make no objections to the wife securing a divorce. Later he writes that the telegram was a forgery, and now asks that the decree be set aside. Judge Scott has appointed a committee of four lawyers to investigate. Mrs. Murray, who is an actress, has since married a saloonkeeper in St. Louis.

Ginn Breaks the Record.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—Louis Ginn, a member of the Cleveland wheel club, has succeeded in breaking the world's record for a 24-hour run. The run was made upon the Newburg driving park track in the presence of a large crowd of interested spectators. The first mile was made in 2:59 4-5, the first 10 in 29:59 3-5, the first 20 in 1:01:39, the first 50 in 2:30:53, the first 75 in 3:46:18, and the first 100 in 5:00:13 1-5, or 39:05 4-5 less than the best previous record.

A Destructive Boiler Explosion.

CAREY, O., Oct. 17.—The boiler of Henry Waters' planing mill exploded, tearing half the building into fragments and fatally injuring the engineer, Solomon Sterling, who was buried under the debris. Jack Green, a laborer, had his left leg torn off and may die. Tom Hart was blown out of the second story window, but escaped injury.

Robber Shoots an Officer.

ASHLAND, O., Oct. 17.—Byron Eby's house at Millin was robbed and the robber went to Jeromeville, but his description preceded him. Marshal Isaac Hoffelinger of that town tried to arrest him in a barn. In escaping the robber turned on the marshal and shot him in the right breast. He will probably die.

Thrown From a Horse.

CALDWELL, O., Oct. 17.—Mrs. William Albright, residing near Chamberlain, was instantly killed by being thrown from a horse and dragged to death. She leaves a husband and five small children.

One Judge Defies Five Others.

OMAHA, Oct. 17.—Editor Rosewater of The Bee, who is charged with libel by ex-Sheriff Bennett, to have been tried by Judge R. C. Scott, appealed to the other five judges, because Scott was prejudiced against him, who decided to hear the case. When Judge Scott was notified of the judges' decision he declared that the case could not be transferred from the criminal branch of the court. He then made an order nullifying the act of the five judges and ordering Mr. Rosewater to appear before him.

Lexow Committeemen Tired of the Petty Witnesses.

ASK EXAMINATION OF OFFICIALS.

Chairman Goff Promises to Soon Bring the Police Commissioners to the Stand. The Political Control of Paupers and Vagrants—Other Testimony.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—There was a demand made at the session of the Lexow investigating committee for the members to "go up higher." By this is meant that some of the members of the committee are tired of the investigation of policemen and minor criminals, and that the police commissioners and leading politicians should be placed on the stand. This demand was expressed by Senator Lexow, who said it was time to go higher up. Senator O'Connor echoed his sentiments in still stronger language. Mr. Goff, in reply, said that he was not prepared to "go up higher," but that he would soon be ready to call the police commissioners to the stand.

One other point of importance came out at the investigation. Mr. Goff came in and announced that he had written to Superintendent Byrnes and the commissioners of charities and correction with regard to complaints of alleged fraudulent registration by the inmates of Blackwell's island institutions. Mr. Goff said that Superintendent Byrnes had replied to his letter saying he would do all he could to maintain the integrity of the island and that on election day the police would be especially vigorous in prosecuting inquiries to that end. Mr. Goff said that there was a subject that he thought should be investigated at once. During a comparatively recent period, 1,500 vagrants had been committed to the island. Only recently 800 of them had been released merely upon the recommendation of a clerk in the employ of the commissioners of charities and corrections. He then referred to the matter of politicians controlling lodging house loafers for political purposes.

Policeman Callahan's "pull" was the subject of some inquiry. James Smith, who keeps a restaurant in Greenwich street, told the committee how the officer came into his place intoxicated one day last week, threatened him with a revolver and otherwise conducted himself in a disorderly manner, winding up by taking the witness to the police station. Lawyer Moss told the committee that all in due season the police commissioners would be called upon to explain why Callahan and other brutal or drunken officers were permitted to remain on the force undisciplined. John Johnson, an inmate of the Tombs, was placed in the witness box. He related that when first arrested he was lodged in the Jefferson Market prison, where Keeper Lynch insisted with curses that he must engage a lawyer named Catlin. On two occasions the witness paid Leach $1 for the privilege of walking in the corridor. This was the custom. Leach sold whisky to the prisoners for about four times its value.

Leach was called to the stand. Chairman Lexow succeeded in getting the witness to admit that it was the custom of the keepers to share lawyers' retainer fees, but Leach strenuously denied that he ever sold whisky to prisoners. Moss V. Hamilton, a business man of Trenton, identified Captain Martens, who was present, as the officer he had paid $15 to two years ago. This was to secure the privilege of letting his store for a registry and polling place. The city pays $30 for these stations and it appears to have been the custom of the police to demand $15 out of it.

Trotter to Sack Two Cities. CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Oct. 17.—Excitement is running high among the Bull Hill miners on account of the shooting of James Cannon and Thomas Short by Deputy Sheriff Sterling at Divide when they attempted to escape from custody. It is claimed that the prisoners were innocent of the robbery with which they were charged and that there was no excuse for removing them to Colorado Springs without a hearing. Threats to sack this city and Colorado Springs are openly made, and it is feared the old war will break out anew.

Hummed In by Insurgents. PARIS, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Tangier reports that Morocco City has been in a stage of rebellion for the past week. The sultan's caliph, Prince Mulay Abbas, is hummed in by the insurgents, owing to his attempt to arrest the sultan's son, and to arrest Caid Behama. The aid resisted desperately and finally committed suicide in order to evade being taken into custody.

A Preacher Wounds a Desperado. GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 17.—Rev. Mr. Bauman, living near Lexington, was called to his door when he opened it persons outside fired on him. He jumped back, secured a Winchester and returned the fire, wounding one of his assailants, as shown by a trail of blood. The attempted assassination was by desperadoes, whom he had scored in sermons.

Policy Players Indicted. BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—The criminal court grand jury has presented indictments for 35 white and colored policy players captured at 311 Enoch street last week. Notwithstanding several of the indicted men asserted their innocence Justice Murray held them all under $1,000 security.

The Kaiser Unveils a Monument. WIESBADEN, Prussia, Oct. 17.—Emperor William unveiled the monument erected here to the memory of his grandfather, Emperor William I, and formally opened the new royal theater erected by the town and subsidized by his majesty.

To Impeach a Health Officer. MILWAUKEE, Oct. 17.—Impeachment proceedings against Health Commissioner Dr. Walter Kempster for the manner in which he has handled the smallpox epidemic in this city have been begun in the common council.

Not an Embezzler. ELLICOTT CITY, Md., Oct. 17.—Ex-Treasurer J. E. Bill of the Howard county school board has been acquitted of the charge of embezzlement.

GEN. MILES' REPORT.

He Says the Troops Prevented a Rebellion at Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The annual report of Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the department of the Missouri, begins with the statement that there have been no changes of troops in the department during the year, and continues as follows:

"In addition to removing and expelling intruders from the Choctaw nation and from the Osage and Kaw Indian reservations, the troops stationed at Forts Reno, Sill and Supply were called on for the purpose of protecting the United States mails, guarding railroad bridges and supporting the United States marshal in making arrests. All of these difficult duties have been performed in a manner which shows good judgment and discretion on the part of the officers and a good state of discipline and faithful service on the part of the troops, and it is believed that but for their prompt intervention much bloodshed would have resulted. The troops having quickly and efficiently accomplished the arduous duties assigned to them, have been withdrawn from the field and returned to their respective stations. "The conduct of the troops in restoring order and confidence where mob violence and a reign of terror existed in Chicago was marked by great forbearance, fortitude and excellent discipline, and their presence and action were very greatly contributed to the maintenance of civil law, and in my opinion saved this country from a serious rebellion when one had been publicly declared to exist by one most responsible for its existence."

Disasters on the Pacific. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The gale which has prevailed along the north Pacific coast since Saturday last has undoubtedly caused widespread disaster to shipping interests. At least three schooners are known to be wrecked. There are grave reasons for believing that the American ship Ivanhoe has been lost with all on board. She carried a crew of 18 men. Colonel Fred Grant of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer was a passenger.

The Czar No Better.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 17.—The Official Messenger has issued a special edition containing the following bulletin, signed by Prof. Leyden and Drs. Zacharin, Popoff and Beljandine: "The disease of the kidneys shows no improvement. His majesty's strength has diminished. The physicians in attendance hope the climate of the south coast of the Crimea will have a beneficial effect on the health of the czar."

Owner of the Building Discharged. NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Louis Aaronowitz, owner of the building, 74 Monroe street, which recently collapsed and caused the death and injury of a number of persons, was discharged in the Essex Market police court by Justice Sims, who held that he was not responsible for the accident.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, West End—a son.

The Junior Mechanics will initiate several candidates at their meeting tomorrow night.

Mrs. J. W. Owen has moved here from Tiltonville with her family, and will make her home in this city.

Squires courts continue almost lifeless today. Squire Rose has one case booked for Tuesday next, but this is all.

The yard men are so rushed at present that they like some of the local railroad men are compelled to work far into the night.

S. Rowan has shipped his household goods from Steubenville to this city, and located in Doctor Gardner's store-room on Washington street.

The American Still works of Burgess & Co., have ordered a new stack for the plant, and it will be placed in position in a few days.

Rathbone Sisters, the ladies organization connected with the Knights of Pythias, will hold a social in their hall next Monday evening. All the members and all Knights are invited.

The Young Men's Christian association members have decided to postpone the social which was listed for tomorrow evening until Tuesday of next week. The affair will be novel and pleasing.

A freight train west bound broke in twain as it was passing the local passenger depot this morning, and it was not until the west bound passenger train had arrived that it was coupled up again and got away.

Workmen are now engaged in making needed repairs on the interior of the Salvation Army barracks. The building will be lined throughout and made comfortable for the meetings during the approaching winter.

The Edworth League has received an invitation to a meeting in New Lisbon, and a special meeting of the organization will be held at the First Methodist Episcopal church after prayer service tonight to discuss the matter.

Mrs. William Seaton, of Seventh street, left his morning for Irwin, Pa., where her brother, George Painter, died Monday evening. Deceased was a prominent farmer and aged 80 years. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning.

The case of Mrs. Caroline Smith charged with keeping a house of ill fame will come up for trial before Mayor Gilbert at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at city hall. It will no doubt attract quite a crowd as cases of a similar character usually do.

An East End married man is said to have been in a questionable district and with questionable parties at an early hour Sunday morning, and some of his friends say they will be kind enough to report the matter if it occurs again. "A warning to the wise," etc.

Dr. R. J. Marshall, of East End, yesterday removed a tumor from the spinal cord of E. Lutton who has been seriously ill at his home near Ralston's crossing for a year or more. The tumor was about the size of a walnut, and had been a source of bother to the sufferer for some time.

Instead of being a school library as a local sheet announced yesterday the new library which the scholars of the public schools are arranging will be for the benefit of all who wish to use it. A meeting of the high school scholars was held last night to further arrangements for soliciting books for the proposed library.

A number of persons went to New Lisbon today, having been summoned as witnesses in the case of Mrs. Margaret O'Rourke versus Hyman Browarsky for $300 damages. The case was tried in this city a year or more ago and the jury allowed Mrs. O'Rourke the sum claimed against Browarsky for selling liquor to her husband, an habitual. Hyman appealed the case to common pleas court.

Frank White has decided to return to his former home in East End, and will sell his farm stock and other goods on November 1, near Mechanics-town. Elijah Grant will also remove from Wattsville to this city where his son, John Grant and family resided until several months ago. The two families will dispose of their goods the same day, having arranged for a double sale on the White farm. J. W. Grant will return to East End when his father comes.

Some of the boys who have been in the habit of taking free rides on street cars, despite the motor-men's warning, may be called on to answer for violating the law. Recently Motorman Andrews turned in the names of three boys he claims were riding on a car as it was going to the loop. These names were given to the road officer and from there they went to the authorities. The parents of two of the boys will stand trial if the cases are prosecuted as they claim that only one boy was really on the car and that the others can prove an alibi.

SHARP WORDS.

It will be in November. When we look upon the scattered remnants of Democracy on the morning of the seventh we will for the first time see the party trimmed to taste. (Applause.)

I do not mean to argue the shortcomings of Democracy. We do not know what is wrong with the party, but we do know that under a protective tariff labor receives its greatest reward. The Democrats have been faithless. They have struck down industry and would have done worse. I believe Mr. Cleveland is honest in his convictions and wants to do what is right as a patriot, but if he had carried a musket when the poisonous breath of treason covered the south, he would not have appointed one Hoke Smith to look after the pensions of the soldiers. (Applause.) It is the one department for which he is unfitted. Smith may be honest, but he was reared in the south. He believed from the cradle that it was wrong to pension union soldiers. Yet he was appointed to look after them. How could he do it? He didn't, for he had not the time to read the law, had not been able to warm the seat in which he sat before he did violence to the principle of equity and common law which we have inherited from the mother country. No man can be deprived of what is his own, without a fair, impartial trial before a jury of his peers. Yet Smith with one stroke of the pen wiped out without one word of warning that which belonged to the soldier. But he did not appreciate the spirit of America. No sooner was the order issued than a storm of protest broke from every city, village and hamlet in the north. The people showed their power and Hoke was glad to revoke the order. America had spoken. Let us see to it that there are no Hoke Smiths in the next administration, and I know there will be none if gallant William McKinley is president. (Applause.)

Another plan of Democracy was to discredit Harrison's administration by refusing to treat with a little band of Americans in Hawaii. Cleveland and Gresham attempted to trail the American flag in the dust, and hold the people up to the contempt of the world. Again the American people raised their voice in protest. Our president dined with the dusky queen, but the people would have none of it. He seemed desirous of enhancing English prosperity, for the queen had English blood in her royal veins. Did not her grandfather eat a portion of Captain Cook, and would that not be the result? Mr. Cleveland would not hear the voice of Americans asking an American form of government. He attempted to reverse the wheels of civilization, to restore a monarchy. But he was glad to hear the cry of America, glad to address the new ruler as "My Dear Mr. Dole."

For four years English factories were closed and English workmen were idle, made so because we manufactured what we needed, and owned our own market. Smokeless chimneys and fireless furnaces were in England while here the sound of industry filled the land. Then came that change we hear of. England realized that the Democratic party had won, that its friends were in power. Then the spindles began to move, the furnaces to blaze, and the faces of the English manufacturers to beam with delight. The London chamber of commerce took on an air of business because they saw prosperity in America's adversity. At a critical moment a dapper little fellow, a college professor from West Virginia arrived, and was royally welcomed. He was wine and dined and banqueted because an American had seen fit to take money from the pocket of his countrymen and put it in the pocket of the foreigner. How strange that an American legislator should accept this honor because, forsooth, he had done more to give English workmen employment than had Gladstone. Ought Wilson to object? Do we not rightly criticize him? We suffer with the Democrats, but we can take comfort from the fact that we do not belong to a party whose leader permitted the tariff bill to become a law and then flew to Buzzard's bay, there to sit on buzzard's roost, while the rank and file stayed at home and ate crow.

It is not so important that we carry Ohio this year, but it is important that congressmen be Republicans. You owe this to yourselves, you who have felt the pinch and suffering of Democratic legislation. I can not summon sufficient force to condemn the policy of free trade, to record myself as being arrayed against its evil influences. It remains for you by your votes to rebuke and show your displeasure, and with a bow Mr. Taylor retired to greet the many friends crowding around the platform to shake his hand. John Monaghan, who was on the stage, was called and fittingly referred to Governor McKinley as the next president and Mr. Taylor as the next congressman.

There were at least 2,000 people in the rink when the meeting closed, and the majority had listened attentively to what the speaker said. They were earnest, thinking men, the men who were too intent upon the truths being uttered to vent their approval in tumultuous applause.

There is no medicine so often needed to every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quickly relieved. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved, and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. Sued the Sheriff.

NEW LISBON, Oct. 17.—Ben D. Evans, of Wellsville, has brought suit in court to recover property owned by him and now in the hands of the sheriff. He wants a horse, delivery wagon, buggy, harness and an amount of grain, hay and straw. He would also like to have $125 damages from Sheriff Lodge who has held the goods for a month on an execution. Evans sued Deputy Moffatt a week ago, but discovered he was after the wrong man.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Brave Man.

Much interest in the fate of Frank Lenz is being manifested in and around Pittsburgh where the daring wheelman has spent the greater part of his life. The Chronicle Telegraph of last evening contained a lengthy account of his travels in the orient, and show that he is a brave man, who instead of shrinking from the terrors of his dangerous journey, rather liked the life. A missionary from that section expresses the belief that he is ill.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Chilton, Carter county, Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
